Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

Group I. Claims 32-51, drawn to a polymeric composition comprising a polymer microparticle and an aqueous solution containing a DNA coding for a protein product, wherein the polymeric microparticle is 10um or less and induces expression of a gene product encoded by the DNA, wherein the aqueous solution of DNA has an alcohol content of 1 to 40%, classifiable in class 424, subclass 468, and classes 435, 320.1

Group II. Claims 52-56, drawn to vaccine compositions comprising two distinct polymeric composition, each of which comprises a DNA sequence and has a distinct half-life in vivo, classified in Class 514, subclass 44.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Groups I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination of Group I does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed in Group II. The specific subcombination as recited in the claimed invention of Group II has separate utility such as the use of the polymeric composition having two distinct half-lives for each of the two distinct polymeric components to regulate the release of polypeptides entrapped inside the two polymeric microparticles at a target site.

Should Group I be elected, Applicants are further required to elect a specific polymer disclosed at page 14 of the specification, and in claim 37.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species of the polymers disclosed at page 14 of the specification, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Should Group I be elected and the single disclosed polymer be elected, Applicants are further required to elect a specific disclosed polypeptide as listed in items (a) and (b) of claim 43.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species of the polypeptides listed in claim 10, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their divergent subject matter, fall into different statutory classes of invention, and are separately classified and searched, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

An oral restriction was made during a telephone call with applicant's representative, Attorney Schneller, on May 5, 1999, however, a written restriction letter was requested.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).
